Note: The Jordanian General Secondary Education (GSE) certificate in vocational streams (industrial, hotel, home economics, and agricultural) is accepted for previous years without additional admission requirements provided that a document from the Ministry of Education is presented, proving that in the year the student fulfilled the GSE requirements, they were not required to study two additional subjects.

Admission Requirements (Bachelor's Programme)

General Secondary Education:

- The General Secondary Education (Tawjihi) certificate or its equivalent.
- Adherence to the minimum average requirements as follows:
The minimum admission average for Jordanian students is (60%), except for the Law programme (65%) and all engineering and pharmacy programmes (80%). Students should have a minimum score of (50%) in all subjects.
- Non-Jordanian students may be admitted with a maximum of 15 marks below the allowed average for Jordanians, provided that they adhere to the GSE streams required for joining each programme and have a minimum average of (50%).
- International students holding a Jordanian nationality may not be exempted from meeting the average requirement for joining any of the University's programmes.

Bridging:

- Students holding a Jordanian Community College Diploma (two and three years format) with a minimum average of (70%) and who have passed the Comprehensive Exam with a minimum average of (68%), except for pharmacy and engineering programmes (70%), are accepted in equivalent programmes as outlined in the lists issued for this purpose.
- Bridging for the Pharmacy programme is limited to holders of the GSE scientific stream certificate or its equivalent.
- For bridging purposes, special needs students whose names are listed by the Supreme Council for the Disabled and who have passed the Comprehensive Exam (two and three years format) with a minimum average of (65%) may be accepted through the Unified Admission Committee at the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research in programmes equivalent to their university majors.
- Students holding a Jordanian Community College Diploma (three and four years format) who did not sit for the Comprehensive Exam may be admitted, provided that they sit for the Qualifying Exam held by Al Balqa' University and pass with a minimum score of (68%) for all programmes, except for pharmacy and engineering programmes (70%).
- Non-Jordanian students holding an associate degree from Jordan (two and three years format) with a minimum average of (63%) in the Comprehensive Exam, except for pharmacy and engineering programmes (65%), are accepted provided that the Diploma programme matches the one the student will enrol in at the University as outlined in the lists issued for this purpose.
- The University transfers the credit hours the student has completed in their associate degree, whether studied in Jordan or abroad, provided that they do not exceed (50%) of the study programme credit hours (two and three years format), except for the Pharmacy programme where the percentage would be (25%) of the approved study plan.

Transfer students:

- Transfer students may be admitted, provided that they pursue their studies on full-time basis. A maximum of (50%) of their study plan credit hours will be transferred into their study programme.

Required Documents:

- General Secondary Education certificate's (Tawjihi) original transcript or a certified copy.
- Students with foreign certificates should obtain their equivalence from the Jordanian Ministry of Education.
- Photocopy of your passport for non-Jordanians, and the identity card for Jordanians.
- Photocopy of birth certificate.
- Military service booklet for male Jordanians or an exemption certificate.
- Two recent personal photographs.
- If existing, a certified copy of the Community College Diploma and a certified transcript from the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research.
- Certified transcript from the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research and course description for transfer students.
- Certificate of non-issuance of disciplinary action for transfer students.

The Higher Diploma in Education Programme

The Higher Diploma in Education was established at Middle East University in dedication to the University's vision, mission and objective to advance all stages of the educational process, and in an effort to uphold our social responsibility. We highly value the teachers' role in shaping our future, thus we aim to prepare educational leaders who are bound to adequately serve their respective sectors, accelerate human development endeavours, and assume an active role in intellectual and professional advancement. The programme's set objectives are aligned with the requirements of local and international labour markets, and designed to fulfill the demand for highly-qualified teachers, principals, educational supervisors, teaching methods, curricula specialists, educational consultants, and other competencies needed in the field.

The International Programmes Department at MEU was established in 2018, to serve the “internationalisation” strategy.

The department encompasses two major units: joint programmes unit and hosting programmes unit.

Joint programmes:

A joint programme refers to joint or double degree programs, which are study programs collaboratively offered by two (or more) higher education institutions located in different countries and leads to a joint degree.

Hosted programmes:

Host programme allows local universities to provide their students with higher education degree from universities in other countries.

Major Partnerships

The Deanship of International Programs focused on implementing the international strategy of the university, and has partnered up with prominent British universities, and launched joint and hosted programs with The University of Strathclyde- Glasgow and the University of Bedfordshire to provide quality courses at different academic levels (bachelors, masters and doctorate)

The University of Strathclyde:

The University of Strathclyde was established in 1769, making it one of the oldest higher education institutions in the United Kingdom. The university offers a range of courses but has a focus on technological and scientific studies. Research is also a chief interest of Strathclyde's, with a key focus on health, pharmacy, manufacturing, and energy, among others.

Guided by HM King Abdullah II's ambitious vision for reform and long-term, sustainable growth in trade and investment links between the UK and Jordan, MEU took a leading role in signing a partnership with the University of Strathclyde and launched a joint BA Pharmacy Programme (MPharm) in Jordan. Besides, its hosted programmes that focus on quality courses to bridge the gap in the labour market.

No. 1 in the UK for Pharmacology and Pharmacy in the Complete / University Guide League Tables 2019

About the Master of Pharmacy Programme (MPharm)

Pharmacists are experts in medicine who work alongside doctors, nurses and dentists as part of healthcare teams.

As a pharmacy graduate, you'll need to understand the science behind drug discovery, development and delivery along with how patients react to the medicines they take. You'll also have to understand individual patient care and public health issues to deliver the best health and pharmaceutical care. Our pharmacy degree combines science and pharmaceutical practice from the start. Our aim is to provide you with the skills and knowledge to be a pharmaceutical expert to choose from the full range of pharmacy careers.

The programme is jointly delivered by the Faculty of Pharmacy at MEU in Amman, Jordan and the Strathclyde Institute of Pharmacy and Biomedical Sciences in Glasgow, Scotland. Both institutions have strong links with the community, hospitals and the pharmaceutical industry.

Suitably qualified students will be admitted directly into year one of the programme, where they will spend their first three years at the Faculty of Pharmacy at MEU and continue years four and five at SIPBS in Glasgow, Scotland.

Work Placements

Students enrolled in the joint MPharm programme will take advantage of community and hospital placements with optional summer research projects in the UK, in cooperation with the National Health Services and Community Pharmacy Scotland.

National and British Accreditation

The programme was approved by the Jordanian Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research in its session held on 23/09/2019.
